

Woldgrain Storage Ltd

Job Vacancy

Apprentice Electrician

Woldgrain Storage is a central grain storage and processing plant based at Hemswell North Lincolnshire.

Woldgrain operates as a farmers co-operative and has been in existence since 1980.

Our current plant electrician will retire within the next 3 years. We are therefore seeking to recruit and train someone with a view to taking over that position.

As the position requires the successful applicant to work harvest shifts, including night working, the ideal applicant will be at least 18 years old, and have their own transport.

The position will pay more than the minimum wage, including generous overtime payments and pension benefits.

Woldgrain will pay all training fees associated with the apprenticeship.

For further details please contact either John Burnett on 01427 668741 email address info@woldgrainstorage.co.uk.